

MEMOIRS OF A THIRTIES DISSIDENT

by

Nares Craig

For Family and Friends

(Dictionary): Dissident: A person who opposes official policy

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Chapter 1	Background	The Millionaire Patriarch • The Family • The Family Home • The Name Nares • Life at Tanera More • The Remarkable Great Aunt Emily • Edwin's Famous Clock
	Yachting	Laughing Water
Chapter 2	Schooldays	St. Edmund's Preparatory School • The Sadistic Headmaster • Boy Scouts • Charterhouse • Weekites • Traditions • Teachers and Friends
Chapter 3	Climbing	Wilfred Noyce • Training on rock • Severe Climbs • Doctor Edwards: a very brave man • Wilfred's Fall • Mount Victoria: Rocky Mountains • Cambridge University Mountaineering Club
Chapter 4	Canada	The Atlantic Crossing • Icebergs • Two Great Railways • Views from the Trains • Kicking Horse Pass on the Footplate • Mail Steamer to Skagway
Chapter 5	European Cities	Paris • Munich • Salzburg and Innsbruck • Vienna • Budapest • Prague • Dresden • Berlin • Venice • Florence
Chapter 6	University	Guy Fawkes Night, 1936 • The Night Climbers of Cambridge • A dummy coronation over Kings College Chapel. • Aftermath of climbing activities • The C. P. R. E. and the C. U. R. B. • Final undergraduate days • Clough Williams-Ellis, a remarkable personality
Chapter 7	Sensing The Real World	A Powerful Childhood Influence • Questions of class • Edwin's Politics:
Chapter 8	Pre War And Early War Years	Cambridge • Geoffrey Pyke • Professor John Desmond Bernal • John Platts-Mills Q. C.
Chapter	Thora Silverthorne:

9	My Future Wife	Getting Together • Thora's Family - the Silverthorne 'clan'
Chapter 10	Two "war-Effort" Jobs (1942-43)	Ordnance Factories • Air Transport Auxiliary • Trials of the extra high-powered Napier "merlin" engine; and a happy coincidence. • The Disappearing V.I.Ps
Chapter 11	Conscientious Objection To Conscription: The Outcome
Chapter 12	From Civilian To Soldier Overnight
Chapter 13	Army: Basic And Sapper Training	"facts of life" in "the ranks"
Chapter 14	Army: officer training	The Surprising Accolade • Within a whisker of dismissal • The Unforgettable 'Death-Rattle' • A very lonely mine-clearing duty
Chapter 15	Finally: To The First Assault Brigade	The origin of 79 th Armoured Division • "my tank for D-Day" • Tank training: Catterick • Organisation of an Assault Squadron: Men and Machines • Major 'dodger' Smith ('the shit') a painfully bad leader
Chapter 16	France!	Panic Stations! • Footnote 'an ill-timed telegram'
Chapter 17	Six Actions: Normandy To The Rhine	i) The Hell of Falaise: The Worst German Defeat Since Stalingrad • ii) Boulogne & a Mad Mission Aborted • iii) The Hostile Scheldt Estuary • iv) "craig's Bridges" • v) Siegfried Line • vi) Crossing The Rhine
Chapter 18	Life in "the Line"	"comforts for the troops"
Chapter 19	A Visit To The Red Army

Chapter 20	Eersel: A Welcome Winter "harbour"
Chapter 21	"clearing Up" In Germany
Chapter 22	Back To 'Civvie Street' (1946)
Chapter 23	Post War Homes and other 'bases'
Chapter 23.1	30 Gordon Mansions, Torrington Place, London, WC1	Wedding Reception Nov '46
Chapter 23.2	Revel Cottage, Wooburn Moor
Chapter 23.3	Oak Hill Lodge, Hampstead
Chapter 23.4	Yacht "Revella"
Chapter 23.5	77 Quickswood, Primrose Hill	A "daylight robbery"
Chapter 23.6	"Lletyreos", Llanfyllin, Wales (1971-'95)	My electric sliding gate • The remarkable local environment • Lletyreos: The house and garden • Disaster • The all-but drowned cow • A Temporary Financial Crisis
Chapter 23.7	2 Yewtree Close, Muswell Hill, London	Entering old age, alone, at 2 Yew Tree Close

Chapter 23.8	First "bus" ('53-'60)	The phantom nuclear weapons factory • A loose dinghy on the run
Chapter 25	The Communist Party	Family reactions to my support for the left - Edwin's invasion of my privacy • Possible reactions of non-family readers of these Memoirs in the year 2007 (or later)
	Joining the Communist Party
	My CP Membership and my Army career	My First Close Experience With Tanks and 79 th Armoured Division • MI 5's Spying on Harry Pollitt • Concluding months in the CP
Chapter 26	Association of Building Technicians (1945-50)
Chapter 27	Sheffield/Warsaw Peace Congress (1950)
Chapter 28	Architects Delegation to USSR (1955)	Leningrad • Our routine site-seeing drill • Interpreting problems
Chapter 29	The Cold War (1954/55)
Chapter 30	Vienna Peace Congress (1952)
		Introduction • (1) B.R.S. HQ Garston - The premises: • (2) Advantages of Public Sector Employment • (3) BRS and Scientists • Cartoon by Ralph White R.I.B.A • (5) My Research Brief • (6) Preliminary Site Visits To Flats Projects, Both Complete And Under Construction • (7) My Two Main Reports • (8) T.A.Wilkinson, Charles Belcher • (9) Designing the Angel Road Flats • (9a) A new and exceptional colleague; David Webb • (9b)

Chapter 31	BUILDING RESEARCH STATION (BRS 1954-1980)	The first Angel Road mock up at Garston • (10) Pre-Casting Terminology used for both the BRS Battery Casting and Breicast systems: • (11) The Advantages of On-Site Battery Casting: • (12) Angel Road Edmonton: Site-Casting of Panels: Erection of the 18 Storey Block. • (13) Visits by builders and others to the building site at Angel Road Edmonton under construction • (14) Lectures Given • (15) Nomination of myself for promotion from Principal Scientific Officer to Senior Principal Scientific Officer • (16) An unfortunate disagreement with a physicist colleague • (17) Sale of the Breicast System for £25,000 to a private contractor. • (18) Sad conclusion of: the baseless J.B.Dick grudge against me; and of my service time at BRS.
Chapter 32	BRECAST - A New Way of Building
Chapter 33	Peru/Chile	March 1969: Peru • Chile 1973
Chapter 34	Guildford School Of Art Dispute (1967/8)
Chapter 35	Global Warming	Thora's assistance with my book: Alternative World • Alternative World on the Internet
Chapter 36	90 th Birthday Party: 3 rd November 2008
Chapter 37	Some Afterthoughts	Some Further Afterthoughts
	Conclusion	